DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's response filed 01/04/07 in reply to the restriction requirement of 11/16/06 has been entered. However, a restriction requirement between the multiple DNA/protein sequences recited in the claims was inadvertently omitted in the action. Therefore, the requirement has been modified as follows. Any inconvenience this may have caused applicant is regretted.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-6 and 103-109, drawn to a bacterial effector protein, and a method of using said effector protein.

Group II, claim(s) 7-102, drawn to a polynucleotide encoding an effector protein, construct/vector, plant cell, and a plant transformation method.

For the invention of Group I, Applicant is also required to elect one protein sequence from: SEQ ID NO: 2, 4, 6, 8, and 24. For the invention of Group II, Applicant is required to elect one DNA sequence from the following:

- A. SEQ ID NO: 1 or a DNA encoding SEQ ID NO: 2
- B. SEQ ID NO: 3 or a DNA encoding SEQ ID NO: 4
- C. SEQ ID NO: 5 or a DNA encoding SEQ ID NO: 6
- D. SEQ ID NO: 7 or a DNA encoding SEQ ID NO: 8; and
- E. A DNA encoding SEQ ID NO: 24.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The inventions I and II are directed to structurally and functionally different products and different methods of using said different products. The only possible common technical feature between inventions I and II is that an effector of protein of Group I was encoded by a polynucleotide of Group II. However, such a feature is known in the prior art and does not define a contribution over the prior art. Therefore, there is no special technical feature that links the invention of Group I with the invention of Group II.

Furthermore, the special technical features of Group I that are not recited in Group II is considered to be the isolated protein and a method of using said isolated protein.

The special technical features of Group II that are not recited in Group I is considered to be isolated nucleic acids; transgenic plants comprising it, and a plant transformation method.

The inventions of A-E are not so linked by a single special technical feature because there is no shared significant structural element between the DNA/protein sequences. In addition, since each sequence is disclosed by specific SEQ ID NO, the structural differences between the sequences would not have been obvious. Therefore, the DNA/protein sequences of the claims are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Therefore, for all the reasons discussed above, inventions I-II lack unity.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1638

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
